According to the Daily News, a Chinese official who has recently come down to Shanghai from Shantung, overland, states that on the route between Tsi-nan-fee and Chinkiang there were no signs of inundations. On the contrary, following the usual road from Teing-chiang-pu, which in many parts lies, along the side of the Grand Canal, he was surprised to notice there was everywhere much less water than usual. But he heard rumours all the way of serious inundations further West. There were 185 deaths in Hongkong during the week ended 21st January, of which 81 were from small pox. The deaths among the British and foreign community numbered 9, of which ? were due to small-pox. So far the epidemic does not seem to have affected the villages much, only one death being recorded at Aberdoon and one among the beating population at Kowloon.

About 500 tons of millet stalks and other such material on its way from Tientsin to the river gap have been burnt from London, left Singapore on Friday evening by the people of Shantung, the supposed reason being that they do not wish to facilitate the return of the Yellow River into their province.

In order to give effect of the recommendations f the Sub-Committee, letters were despatched to the Colonial Secretary, the Honorary Secretary of the Alice Memorial Hospital, and to the Committee of the Tung-wah Hospital, and after receiving favourable replies in support of the Sub-Committee's recommendations, a sum of $50 was lodged at both the Civil and Alic Memorial Hospitals to be used for inducing parents to bring their children for furnishing a upply of lymph; and notifications in English nforming the public that vaccinations would be conducted daily at these institutions between the hours of 2 and 3 p.m.—Saturdays and Sundays

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT. A gigantic enterprise is on the tapis; an en terprise which will bring a good deal of trade to Macab as well as improve the already enermous commerce of Hongkong. The scheme is in contemplation among a number of foreigners and Chinese with a view to the opening up for trade of the North and West Rivers by creating an extensive mart and town at Chin Shan, a place near Macaoandcontiguous to it. Chin Shan is to be the head quarters for the conveyance of merchandise to Pak Shan, from whence the goods will be distributed to the North and West Rivers.
